

Transvaginal Ultrasound

Before the Exam

- There are no special instructions.

During the Exam

- You will lie on your back on an exam table.
- Your arms will be at your side.
- Your feet will put in stirrups — like for a pelvic exam.
- The technologist will gently insert the wand (transducer) into your vagina.
- You may feel a little pressure, but it should not be painful.
- Pictures will be taken of your uterus and ovaries.
- The exam takes about 15 minutes.
