How To Give Enoxaparin (Lovenox®) Shots (Injections)

Your health care provider wants you to give yourself shots (injections) of enoxaparin. Enoxaparin is a medicine used to thin blood to prevent blood clots.

To give yourself a shot, please follow these steps:

- Wash your hands.
- Get your equipment ready: alcohol, wipes, syringe, needle and enoxaparin.
- Measure the correct dose of enoxaparin into the syringe. Gently shake off any solution on the outside of the needle.
- Select your shot site. The best places are the fat pads in the lower right and left of your abdomen. Choose a different site for each shot. Stay 2 inches away from your belly button to prevent bruised areas or scars.
- Gently clean the site with an alcohol swab. Use a circular motion, moving away from the center. Do not rub the site.
- Form a fat roll by gently grasping your skin at the site you choose. Do not pinch the skin, just puff it up.
- Insert the needle quickly (dart-like) at a 30 to 60 degree angle into the fat roll. Do not pull out the plunger. Release the finger pressure you apply at the skin and inject the enoxaparin slowly. Take the needle out quickly, at the same angle in which you put it.

When giving enoxaparin shots, be sure to rotate the sites with each shot. Stay at least 2 inches away from your belly button to prevent bruises and scars.

- If you start to bleed, gently apply pressure to the site for 5 to 10 seconds. Do not rub or massage the area.
- Always remember to rotate your shots. (For example, give your first shot in the lower left of your abdomen and the second shot in the lower right.)

Getting Rid of Sharps

Properly throwing away used sharps (needles and lancets) is important to keep your family and community safe. This prevents adults, children and pets from finding and being harmed by them.

How to Store Your Sharps at Home

You will need to have a special container to store your used sharps at home. You can:

- buy a sharps disposal container from your pharmacy.
- make your own container. Visit fda.gov and type “sharps disposal container” into the search box for instructions.

When storing sharps at home, it is important to remember the following.

- Always keep your sharps storage container in a place where children and pets cannot reach it.
- Follow any directions from your county drop-off site or mail-back programs.

How to Get Rid of Your Sharps

When the container is three-fourths full:

- return the sharps to your county drop-off site
- or
- send them to a mail-back program. You will have to pay for this.

Allina Health hospitals and clinics do not accept sharps. Please do not bring them to your hospital or clinic.
